Uganda, Ghana Group Studies Cattle Locally

A Ranch Management Group from Uganda and Ghana, will live in a mobile home on the Everglades Experiment Station until mid-January. They will be learning everything possible about the best ways to operate and manage cattle and pastures. In addition to working with the cattle on the Experiment Station they will visit private ranches in the vicinity.

Stuart C. Bell, a former Florida county agent with 15 years experience overseas, is the technical leader for the group. Bell will be with these men during their entire stay in the U. S. A., which will include an artificial insemination school, work on the Range Cattle Experiment Station, Ocala, and on the Desert Ranch, Holopaw, where several thousand cows are artificially inseminated each year.

These men will live in their mobile home for the entire five-month training period. Information gained here in Florida will be taken by these men to their homeland and put into practice to aid in increasing the food supply of their countries.

Southern Bell, CWA Agreement Reached Monday

An agreement between the Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company and the Communication Workers of America was reached on Monday night, according to C. D. Leonard, manager of the firm's local plant.

The new contract covers 36 months and affects more than 65,000 of the firm's employees in nine states. The contract has a wage re-opener in 18 months from effective date.

Bargaining has been in progress in Atlanta since September 26. The agreement is effective November 14, subject to ratification by C. W. A. members.

The basic wage increase ranges from $3.50 to $8.00 per week depending on the job classification of the employee.

The overall cost to Southern Bell of the wage increase and other changes will be approximately $29.5 million dollars annually. The cost in Florida will be about six million dollars a year.

Southern Bell Personal Vice President, W. A. Thompson, said, "The new agreement is fair to employees, the telephone using public, and the owners' side."

First Class Mails to be Airlifted To Overseas Military Post Offices

Effectively immediately all first class mail, personal sound recordings (records, tapes), and parcels weighing five pounds or less and measuring not more than 60 inches in length and girth combined will be airlifted on a space available basis between the United States and military post offices overseas, Postmaster Rosa A. Nash of the Belle Glade office announced this week.

Also, under Public Law 89-725 — The Dulak Military Mail Act — which was signed by President Johnson on November 2, 1966, second class publications such as newspapers and magazines published weekly or more often, and featuring current news of interest to the military, will be airlifted from San Francisco to the Armed Forces serving in Vietnam.

Postmaster Nash explained that parcels weighing five pounds or less and not exceeding 60 inches in length and girth combined, paid at the surface rates, will be moved by surface transportation within the United States from points of mailing to the port of embarkation.

To speed up separation and delivery of these smaller parcels falling within this category, Postmaster General Lawrence F. O'Brien directed that all parcels be clearly marked upon accepting at the post office with the letters "S&M" (surface airtail mail).

This will eliminate the task of reweighing and measuring the parcels at San Francisco Concentration Center prior to dispatch to Vietnam or other overseas military post offices.

Postmaster Nash also reminded mailers that Christmas parcels weighing five pounds and under, though they are given priority from San Francisco to Vietnam on a space available basis, should be mailed no later than December 1. Airmail, she said, she sent no later than December 10.

The deadline for Christmas packages weighing more than five pounds going to Vietnam and other overseas military post offices by surface means was November 10.

Giant Sugar Industry Gets In Full Swing As Factories Start Grinding Operations

NEW SIGNS FOR CITY — Charles Leonard, manager of Southern Bell here, (right) is shown above pointing out one of the new signs recently erected on highways entering Belle Glade. Leonard headed the committee whose responsibility was to have the signs erected. This was a project of the Chamber of Commerce and President Tom Baker is looking over the sign with his committee chairman. One sign is located at the Ducla road and Highway 80 east of the City and the other is on highway 80 coming from South Bay.

The Glades area's giant sugar industry swung into full gear this week as the last of the nine factories began cane grinding operations.

All of the nine plants have begun operations with the exception of the Florida Sugar Corporation here which is expected to begin operation next week, according to Nelson Fairbanks, manager of the Florida Sugar League of Clewiston.

The Sugar Cane Growers Cooperative here began its grinding operation Monday, according to William J. Miller, general manager. The Osceola Sugar Company began its operation yesterday.

Other plants in the area had started earlier in the month.

The Sugar Cane Cooperative plant is not expected to be in operating to full capacity for awhile yet, according to Alvin Weber, factory superintendent.

The Quaker Oats Co. furfural plant, that is located adjacent to the plant and will mill the bagasse, waste product from the cane, did not begin operations.

A company official said the new plant is being checked out and it may be the last of the week before the first bagasse is processed.

Furfural is used as a base for petroleum products and in the manufacture of syndetics.

In discussing the start of the sugar mill, Weber said there were no interruptions and it seemed "smoothest opening day" since the mill opened in 1961.

Faircloth said that the industry will harvest 195,000 acres this year. Last year the value of raw sugar, molasses and refined sugar was set at about $90,000,000.

Deputy Mathis Tells Experience At FBI Academy

Bill Mathis, Deputy Chief of Belle Glade Police Department, who just recently completed a 12-week course in law enforcement given by the National Academy of the Federal Bureau of Investigation in Washington, D. C. gave an interesting account of his experience to the Belle Glade Lions at their regular weekly luncheon meeting at the Civic Center on Nov. 9.

This special school for select law enforcement officers was started in 1955 and since that time, holding two sessions per year with a maximum enrollment of 100 per session, has graduated 50,000 officers.

Training Meet Slated Tonight By Boy Scouts

A new revised Boy Scout Leadership Training Course will begin for the Glades District at 8 p. m. tonight at Jameson Hall, according to Dr. R. J. Allen district training chairman.

The first session will cover the aims, ideals and methods of the Boy Scout program. All registered scouts should attend this course and especially the first session, Allen said.

All other interested adults, especially parents, are invited to attend. This also includes the mothers of boys, Allen stressed.

"It is important that parents sit in on these courses so that they will know more about what their boys are getting involved in and will be better able to encourage them," Allen said.

Suggestions for Name of Winter Festival for County is Sought

An appropriate name is being sought for the planned festival for Palm Beach County next January. Glades area residents have an opportunity to send in suggested names by the coupon on page two.

"It is important that we adopt a name for the winter festival being planned for next January," Judge Russell H. McIntosh said yesterday.

See Coupon On Page 7

So far we have referred to the winter festival being planned for Palm Beach County in general terms, but the time has come," he said, "when we should adopt a specific name for the festival."

According to Judge McIntosh, numerous names have been considered, but when tested by the standards formulated by members of the Festival Committee only one seems appropriate, yet it is hoped that an even better name may be found.

The standards by which the proposed names have been judged are as follows:

1. It should be suggestive of the characteristics of Palm Beach County.
2. It should not be sectional in referring to just the coastal area nor to the Glades area.
3. It should not be such as to require any specific theme for the festival or should permit a variety of themes to be used from year to year.
4. It should be suggestive of a gala or festive occasion.

The name most favorably considered thus far is: Palm Beach County's "Golden Palm Festival." However, before any action is officially taken to adopt a name for the festival, it would seem appropriate to invite suggestions from the residents of Palm Beach County.

"It would be helpful to the Festival Committee if you would mark the coupon on page two and send it to 'Festival Committee, Room 315, County Courthouse, West Palm Beach, Florida,' Judge

Mrs. DeGraw Attending National Mental Health Convention

Mrs. A. B. DeGraw, 216 N. W. Ave. D, Belle Glade is attending the annual convention of the National Association for Mental Health in New Orleans, Nov. 15-18. She is on the board of directors of the Palm Beach County Mental Health Association and is attending the convention as a member of the delegation from the county Association.

Elected to the board of directors in 1965, Mrs. DeGraw worked this past year on the Field study, Benefit and Campaign committees. This month she is serving on the Christmas Cheer committee for the mental hospitals.

As a member of the Board of Directors she was assigned to serve on the Palm Beach County Alcoholic Council.

For many years while she lived in Colorado, Mrs. DeGraw was active in hospital volunteer work and in various civic and youth movements.

Since moving to Florida Mrs. DeGraw has continued her interest in the community and its people. She has been particularly interested in youth programs of the community, including sponsorship of Teen-Town, serving as mother advisor, grand deputy and advisory board member for the Order of Rainbow for Girls, also the sponsorship of the Episcopal Young Churchmen.

Upon her return from New Orleans, Mrs. DeGraw plans to go into "high gear" in her efforts to bring to the city of Belle Glade information on the need to support the planned for, Comprehensive Mental Health Clinic.

Recently, after a visit to Hollywood State Mental Hospital on hospital observance day, she commented, "I realize now more than ever the importance of and need for a comprehensive Mental Health Clinic. I was so disturbed to see so many teenagers and young people as patients in this hospital. I believe that such a comprehensive clinic would provide the wide range of treatment these young people need as well, as serve efficiently in all the areas of Mental Health which effect all our citizens."

"OPERATION ANGEL" — A project of the Senior-Junior Sunday School Class of Community Methodist Church is underway. Some of the members of the Senior High class L-R Mary Leigh Amerine, Margaret Thompson, Lura Livingston, Vicki Challenor and Dick Hooper are shown packing the first 10 lb. box of clothing with money included, to be shipped this week, to Vinh Long, Viet Nam.

Youth May Help Win War By Project In Viet Nam

The project, the Senior High Class of Community Methodist Church is sponsoring, "Operation Angel" began when Capt. Lee Bradcock, a former Belle Glade youth, and a member of the church, wrote the group of this project, which is part of his job in the U. S. Army. He is director of the district in Viet Nam. After serving four years in Viet Nam, Capt. Bradcock was so conscientious and interested in this phase of his work that he renewed for further service. He wrote that anything which could send word of help — such as clothes, toys, eye glasses, etc., stressing that money is accepted most graciously because they are building schools, houses, latrines and other buildings. Capt. Bradcock stated that he thought, "by helping the Vietnamese in these ways, was going to win the war in Viet Nam for the U. S. Also the teachers are trying to teach the Vietnamese about Jesus Christ."

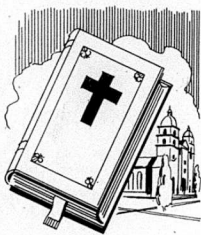

The senior class is sending off the first 10 lb. package this week and are planning to carry out the project the remainder of the year.

Mr. and Mrs. K. K. Smith, Jr., and Mrs. Joanne Royal are teachers of Senior High Sunday School Class. The whole Methodist Church is taking an active part in the project, Lura Livingston who is spearheading the project said.

YOUTHFUL WISDOM
In Florida Seminoles Indian boys, guided unerringly by strict parents, become adults long before they are physically mature. From early childhood they are taught the skills of survival in their wilderness home, the Everglades. Upon reaching the age of twelve years, they are granted all of the tribal privileges reserved for men.

Purpose

"With my whole heart I seek thee; let me not wander from thy commandment!" — Psalms 119:10

How often do you acknowledge God? Once a week? Even less?
A good life is a life of faith day-to-day, sunrise to sunset, twilight until dawn. Let every action of your life be a testimony to God's will. It is not always the easy and popular way; yet in faith there comes a certain wisdom and a lasting belief in God's eternal promise.

Tribute To Ed Lively

(The following is reprinted for Our Church Times the weekly bulletin of the Episcopal Church of St. John the Apostle and was written by the vicar, the Reverend Paul Thompson in tribute to the late Edwin M. Lively, who served St. John's as vestrman and treasurer from its founding.)

The whole community suffered a considerable shock and loss to its leadership in the recent sudden death of Ed. In the early church great contentment and tradition surrounded the loss of the church militant to the Church Expectant. Witness was given to those things which the person had done for the strengthening and work of the Body while living and prayers were asked for him and from him. It is probably from such practice that the eventual recognition of certain saintly lives took place.

Your vicar has been here but some five months and so he feels rather inadequate to do justice to the task at hand. He has felt the power and support of a man who would take a late plane in from Jacksonville rather than miss his Sunday church service. This did not mean just the attendance at the Eucharist. It meant getting there in time to have the building clock, doing a multitude of little odds and ends and preparing the church by "making all things ready" for the service of the Lord.

This also took a great deal of book work and service to

Junior G. A.'s Hear Study Book

A mission study book was presented to the Junior Girls' Auxiliary of the First Baptist Church following a dinner in the social hall of the church on Thursday evening, Nov. 10 at 6 p. m.

The book was taught by Mrs. H. C. Danner, wife of the interim pastor at Northside Baptist Chapel.

Present for the study were 23 Junior girls including those from the Northside Chapel also Mrs. Mazie Whitaker, director of both groups and Mrs. Barney Collier.

the church that would be done in private but which was always accurate and on time. It meant constant assistance to the vicar in multitude of ways and with no questions asked. A real concern for economy and the doing of all things for the good of the Church, was as obvious and downright solid simplicity and earnestness.

We must thank God for what we have had in form of a witness and ask His mercy and kindness in bestowing many more laborers for the harvest here in Saint John's. Nothing could be so complementary to Ed's life as the actual benefiting by the experience of having known and lived in this Body, the Church with him.

Should he pray for things in sight or for the light that will, in turn, give him all he needs; to learn, to have and to be...

When you love your work, it shows.

And we love our work. So much so that we couldn't bear to stop with the slightest-looking split grille over to grace a Wide-Track. (Or any other car, for that matter.) We went ahead and made the windshield wipers disappear. The car not only looks cleaner, but the wipers are less subject to icing and freezing, too. Then we got rid of the vent windows on all Grand Prix handtops. We replaced them with fifty monograms and a flow-through ventilation system. We've even designed a rather unique hood-mounted tachometer option that's available on all Pontiacs. As are our other bright new options like our eight-track stereo tape player and AM-FM Stereo-Multiplex radio. And, of course, our hand-some interiors have to be seen to be believed. All Pontiacs have standard safety features that include a dual master cylinder brake system with warning light, outside rearview mirror, and GM's energy absorbing steering column. Isn't it time you decided to see your Pontiac dealer? If you love our work the way we do, it's the least you can do.

It does all the work, but on Saturday night which one goes to the party?

Once upon a time there was an ugly little bug. It could go about 27 miles on just one gallon of gas. It could go about 40,000 miles on just one set of tires. And it could park in tiny little crevices no bigger than a bug.

It was just right for taking father to the train or the children to school. Or for taking mother to the grocery store, drugstore, dime store and all the enchanting places mothers go when everyone else is sleeping.

The ugly little bug was just like one of the family. But alas, it wasn't beautiful.

So for any important occasion the poor ugly little bug would be replaced by a big beautiful chariot, drawn by 300 horses!

Then, after a time, a curious thing happened. The ugly little bug (which was made very sturdy) never got uglier. But the big beautiful chariot didn't exactly get more beautiful. In fact, in a few years its beauty began to fade. Until, lo and behold, the ugly little bug did look as ugly as the big beautiful chariot! The moral being: if you want to show you've gotten somewhere, get a big beautiful chariot. But if you simply want to get somewhere, get a bug.

Its new look is just one nice thing about the '67 Chevy pickup

THERE ARE LOTS OF OTHERS. For instance, new durability: New sheet metal construction discourages rust. Eliminates exposed joints on cargo box and tailgate. Provides self-washing wheelhousings with special splash shields. Inner cab is specially treated against rust.

Also, added comfort, safety and convenience: Improved visibility all around. Dual master cylinder brake system. Telescoping lower steering shaft. Energy-absorbing instrument panel. Interior color-keyed to go with exterior paint. One-hand tailgate latch.

And extra strength: Full-depth double-wall side panels (Fleetside models). Double-wall steel in cab roof and other important areas.

Plus famous Chevrolet truck features: Independent Front Suspension that gives a smooth ride—like a car. The most popular truck 6's and V8's. (And there are lots more, as your Chevrolet dealer will show you.)

It was announced by Junior Meadows, Chairman for the Belle Glade Jaycees, that they have scheduled home to home tackle football games with the Lake Worth Jaycees on Dec. 3 and Dec. 9.

The Belle Glade club has begun preliminary practice in shorts and will begin full scrimmage in pads when the High school football schedule has been completed and high school coach Bill Burke, will be available to train and coach the team. The team, dubbed the Golden Goats, by Coach Burke, had an undated season last year when they downed the Clewiston Cubs 6-0 in the first game and fought to a 0-0 tie in the second game.

All proceeds from the game at the Belle Glade game on Dec. 9, will go to the Athletic Association. Only members of the Jaycee organization are allowed to play, however they are still taking new members who will be qualified to play if they join in time to make the Nov. 10 roster.

Fans will remember the hard fought battle between Belle Glade and Clewiston, last year, when the teams clashed with the Vigor (if not the Stamina) of the Packers and the Colts in a league play off and the thrill of seeing fullback Clarence Throop of the Belle Glade team, go over for the TD late in the third quarter. The Golden Goats will have about 10-12 lettersmen returning to the team this year, and are expected to be favored over the inexperienced Lake Worth team. The Jaycees have approved the game as an annual event to raise funds for the local athletic program (if they are able to find opponents) and expect a good turnout from Belle Glade fans this year. They would like to see the Miami Dolphins but wish to maintain their Semi-Amateur standing.

Although modern historians know little about the culture of central Florida's first human inhabitants, they are reasonably sure that these people made their livelihood almost entirely by fishing. Scanty evidence found in phosphate beds indicates they lived in simple elevated structures.

Fun, Food, Festivities Greet Crowds At First Annual Regatta

A large crowd turned out for the First Annual Belle Glade Powerboat Regatta at the City Marina Sunday afternoon where they enjoyed a barbecue dinner, music and singing by

Huge Crowd Witnesses Boat Races at Marina on Sunday

A huge crowd estimated at about 2000 people were in attendance as the First Annual Belle Glade Powerboat Regatta was run at the Municipal Marina Sunday afternoon.

Festivities of the day got underway with a barbecue by the Belle Glade Chamber of Commerce at the pavilion.

Belle Glade Blanked By Stuart

Tension mounted as the fans waited for the start of one of the two important games for the Western Division title. Belle Glade lost the toss and kicked off to Marlin County to open the game.

The hard hitting Rams and the Stuart Tigers battled back and forth down the field toward their goals. They were both unable to score until a 160 punt was blocked into the end zone and a Stuart Tiger jumped on it. The extra point was good which left the score at the end of the first quarter, Stuart 7 — Belle Glade 0. There was no change in the score for the third and fourth quarters, as the Golden Rams defended the title and the Stuart Tigers tried to tie it.

As the end of the game drew near, the Rams started their drive to tie the score but were unsuccessful. With a few seconds remaining the Tigers scored again. The extra point was good, leaving the score at the end of the game, Stuart 14 — Belle Glade 0.

Sportsmanship By Hunters Urged By Commissioner

TALLAHASSEE — The words "No Trespassing" spell frustration to many hunters and a great deal of the land now rimmed with posters prohibiting access would undoubtedly be open if all hunters followed the golden rule and were careful to treat the other man's land with the same respect they would their own.

Successful Hunting Season Forecast By Game Commissioner

WEST PALM BEACH — Hunters in the Everglades Region may look forward to a successful 1966-67 hunting season, depending on their skill as a hunter, according to Commissioner W. T. McBroom of the Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission.

McBroom stated "Although the vast Everglades Wildlife Management Area and a small portion of land north of the area is closed to the taking

Safety Tips For Hunters Are Outlined
TALLAHASSEE — Florida had 71 hunting casualties, twelve of which were fatal during the last season. The Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission called on all Florida hunters to help reduce this figure during the 1966-67 season.

Fast, easy direct distance dialing. It's simple. Just dial "1" then the area code, if different from your own, then the telephone number. Your telephone directory has a list of area codes for most cities. These exchanges will have Long Distance direct dial service beginning November 20: West Palm Beach • Belle Glade • Jupiter • Pahokee • Hobe Sound.

Seminar Set For Tax Assessors

TALLAHASSEE — Fred O. (Bud) Dickinson, Jr., Comptroller of Florida, today approved final plans for a seminar to be held here next month for county tax assessors and their staffs.

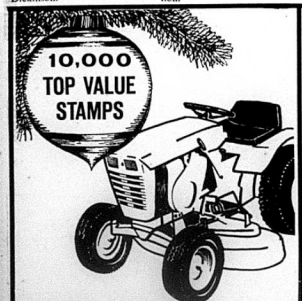

Dickinson estimated 300 tax assessors, deputies and administrators will attend the series of lectures to be given by six nationally known tax assessing experts.

"This will be one of the top schooling sessions ever offered by this office to Florida's tax administrators," said Dickinson.

He named H. Elmo Robinson, head of the special assessments department, to take charge of the project. Robinson will be assisted by other members of the Comptroller's staff.

The instructional program is slated for December 5-7. It will examine four major topics: the concept of value, replacement cost as a measure of value, analysis of market transactions, and income as a measurement of value.

The seminar will conclude with an optional written examination which will count as credit toward a CAE designation.

Florida Parks Have Special Attraction for Nature Lovers

TALLAHASSEE — Fall in Florida state parks is a time of special beauty for nature lovers — a time of showy wildflowers, bright berries and richly colored leaves.

At parks in the northern part of the state such as Torreya State Park near Bristol, Gold Head Branch State Park near Key West, and Florida Caverns State Park at Marianna, the seasonal show is underway in early October. Later, it begins farther south, as at Highlands Hammock State Park near Sebring.

Bright yellow clouds of Goldenrod, purple spikes of Gayfeathers (Liatris), and misty white Dogfennel abound, punctuated here and there with great clumps of brown-centered yellow Sunflowers, often standing casually in a roadside ditch.

Asters, those "daisy-like" flowers, in a variety of sizes and shades of white, pink, blue or purple are much in evidence. Later on, near winter, one might find the vines of the Carolina Aster covered with its lovely violet blue blooms.

Florida Painbrush (Carlephorus) which seems to like open pinelands, has a spectacular lavender-pink blossom that looks as if it might have been dipped in pigment.

Smaller beauties encountered along park nature trails include Lobelias, ranging from white to deep violet, often with a white center above the lower lip; the jaunty flowers of airy Bluecurls, and diminutive Partridge Berry (Mitchella), a neat, dark green ground cover accented with edible scarlet berries. The butter-yellow blooms of St. John's wort, St. Peter's wort or St. Andrew's-Cross (Hypericaceae) placed like minute butterflies on the low, shrubby plants are found in all parks north of the Florida Keys.

On shrubs, or small trees just overhead, are clouds of bluish-black berries on rosy stems topping the thorny trunks of Devil's-walkingstick (Aralia spinosa). At Highlands Hammock & northward, sharp eyes may find the elusive little white Shadow-witch Orchid (Pontheria) in the fallen leaves on the hammock floor as well as the tiny purplish-brown spikes of the Monarda Orchid (Corallorhiza).

The Greenfly Orchid found in many parks is a fall bloomer at photo Lake Hillsborough State Park near Zephyrhills, Washington Oaks Gardens State Park south of Marianna, Tomoka State Park north of Orlando, and Fort Clinch State Park at Fernandina Beach. Look for the clusters of tiny chartreuse blooms on the bark of trees.

In the beach parks, the Sea Oats were already planted above the dunes that their sturdy roots help hold in place. At Fort Clinch State Park near Pensacola the vines of Similax lanceolata show clusters of bright red berries.

Berries are the great show at Florida Caverns where red-berried Snailed Vine (Epiphetum) grows, and the magenta Beauty Berries (Calliopsis) found in almost all the parks, is particularly spectacular.

In deep rich woods finding a cluster of scarlet berries arranged like a maze at the end of a single stalk a foot or so high means you have found the seeds of Green Dragon. Sacramento River State Park west of Live Oak, and O'Leary State Park south of Lake City include this rare relative of Jack-in-the-Pulpit. Highlands Hammock has Jack-in-the-Pulpit itself.

Orange-burr-like fruits open to show red seeds hanging from the slender boughs of the Wahoo or Strawberry Bush (Euonymus), a native of all parks not on the Keys.

Red berries of Hollies gleam in many parks now too. Red Maples (Acer rubrum), Yaupon (Ilex vomitoria) and American Holly (Ilex opaca) most common in the north.

Daboon Holly, a lover of wet places, is particularly beautiful at Myakka River State Park near Sarasota and Highlands Hammock.

Florida has its share of fall foliage colors, too. Red Maples, Sweetgums, and Hickories light the park woodlands with color any time from October through late November, and as late as December in the southern parks, depending on weather conditions.

State Comptroller Urges Legislation To Relieve Tax Burden of Floridians

JACKSONVILLE — State Comptroller Fred O. (Bud) Dickinson, Jr., today urged strong legislative action to relieve the ad valorem tax burden on Floridians.

In a talk to members of the Jacksonville Kiwanis Club at the Roosevelt Hotel Comptroller Dickinson also told his opposition to a proposal to elect the state budget director.

"We have faced and met the State Supreme Court's directive for full market value in the field of equalization property tax assessment," Dickinson said, adding that "we must now attack with even more vigor the pressing need of ad valorem tax relief."

"There is no intent in this tax relief program to upset the 100 per cent valuation and its statewide uniformity. The counties have struggled long and too hard, in many instances under the stresses of a crash program, to accomplish this objective of the Legislature and the directive of the court to now take any action which would upset this balance."

"There must be, though, legislative action which will assure Florida citizens that owning land will not result in a penalty to be imposed by government. Ad valorem taxation has reached the saturation point in nearly all sections of the state. To attempt to squeeze more revenue from this already overburdened segment of our economy could have a devastating effect on the financial stability of state and county government."

"Likewise, it is urgent that the Legislature draft and enact changes in the present millage rollback statutes. The taxing public must have adequate safeguards against runaway millage increases in the face of 100 per cent property valuation."

"The duties of the budget director are entirely administrative and mechanical in nature. They are not policymaking or discretionary in their position."

It follows, then, that the proposal to have this man stand for public, statewide election is without merit.

The budget director of Florida should be, must be and presently is, a professionally qualified administrator. No useful purpose could be served by erasing professionalism from this position. Instead, the result would be to subject to the test of the ballot a type of public service which has nothing which could be decided by issues, policies or popular appeal."

The teenagers and the elderly in Florida's population are gaining in numbers at a faster rate than the state's total population, the Florida State Chamber of Commerce stated in its Weekly Business Review released yesterday.

"Floridians number 5,941,000 by the latest official estimate as of July 1 of this year. This figure is 20 per cent larger than the regular census count for Florida in 1960."

"Of this year's total 2,045,000 Floridians are under 18 years of age, 22 per cent more than in this age group six years ago."

"The 65-plus age group now numbers 743,000, a whopping 34 per cent increase during the interval."

Standing between these two groups are the 18 to 64 year olds numbering 3,153,000. This wage-earner group grew the slowest, 16 per cent since 1960.

"The proportion of the total for which each age group accounts, and whether that proportion is expanding or contracting, are important indicators of trends. The under 18 year old group made up 33.9 per cent of Florida's total population in 1960 and 34.4 per cent now. The 18 to 64 year olds accounted for 54.9 per cent then and 53.1 per cent now."

"The 65-plus age group was 11.2 per cent of the total in 1960 and is 12.5 per cent now. Nationally, this oldest group represents 9.4 per cent of the total population of the country."

Farm Bureau Executive Lays Blame For High Food Prices to Government

GAINEVILLE — T. K. McClane, executive vice president of the Florida Farm Bureau Federation, said today he is a little compensated by the "revolt" by the housewives against high food prices.

The housewife is justly concerned over the high prices," McClane said, "but it looks like another case of the federal government's attempt to divert attention from the real cause of high prices — inflation caused by excessive government spending."

The FFBE executive referred to a charge made today by Charles Shuman, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation in which Shuman cited the efforts of Mrs. Ester Peterson, special assistant for consumer affairs for President Johnson, who has combined here political appearances in behalf of Democratic candidates with meetings of housewives organizing boycotts.

"Every time we demand higher wages, more unemployment, more higher social security benefits, pass so-called social legislation, or pass other programs which cause the government to spend more money than it takes in we are, in essence, asking for higher prices," McClane charged.

"It is unfair and dishonest for administration spokesmen to encourage the idea that any reduction in prices as a result of the boycotts will be anything but temporary," McClane said.

McClane pointed out that there have been attempts recently to blame farmers, businessmen, housewives, and "anyone else" for the inflation in our country.

Former Local Youth Given Write-up By Tampa Newsman

(EDITOR'S NOTE—The following article, headed "A Tampa Portrait," recently was published by the Tampa Tribune. Since John Kirk was a native of Belle Glade, the article is reprinted for our readers.)

By BRUCE WITWER
Times Staff Writer

If your father was a county sheriff and you work for him six years as a deputy, you should have about as good preparation for a career in law enforcement as is possible.

That's the way the story of John F. Kirk Jr. began. Kirk is inspector in charge of the Patrol Division of the Palm Beach Sheriff's Office.

Kirk's career began under the watchful eye of Sheriff J. F. Kirk of Palm Beach County, a veteran of 16 years on the job.

"At first my father was opposed to me becoming a lawman," Kirk said, "but when he realized my mind was made up, he insisted I get my training from him."

"He started me at the bottom of the ladder. Later, when I moved up in the department, if anyone made mistakes I was the one who got the blame. You might say I had a lot of experience without making too many mistakes myself."

Among his assignments at Palm Beach was hunting for moonshiners. On one occasion, Kirk and other deputies raided a bar where they suspected moonshiners were operating.

As they entered, a woman rushed toward a back room with Kirk in hot pursuit. She

HIGH SPEED STATE. In 1925 when northern motorists crossed the state line into Florida, they found they could drive on the open road at a higher rate of speed than in any other state. The legal limit, according to the statute that year, was 45 miles per hour.

arrived first and took a jar of moonshine off a stove. Kirk, who was close behind her, grabbed the jar and a tug-of-war began.

Kirk yelled for the woman to let go. She did. Kirk fell over backwards, spilling the moonshine all over him.

In 1962, realizing the need for completing his education, he enrolled in the Criminology School at Florida State University in Tallahassee, which was headed by noted criminologist Norman Pompreke. He worked his way through FSU as a jailer with the Leon County sheriff's office and later was promoted to deputy. He was graduated with a bachelor of science degree in April, 1964.

"Law enforcement is constantly developing new techniques to cope with a spiraling crime rate," Kirk said. "My course at FSU showed me the value of these techniques and how to utilize them."

vision, an administrative post. He held that job until he became Patrol Division inspector in May, 1966.

"Law enforcement is the first line of defense in local self government," Kirk said, and the first line of defense in law enforcement is the Patrol Division. I am happy to be a part of it."

Since assuming his present duties Kirk has been active in expanding the sheriff's K-9 Corps, a program now under way to train German Shepherd dogs to assist deputies, and developing selective enforcement techniques for use in high crime areas.

Four months ago he went to assist deputies who were trying to disarm a mentally disturbed man. As Kirk began to talk to the man he pulled out a gun and fired at the inspector. The bullet went between Kirk's legs.

"It was the first time I'd ever been shot at," Kirk said, "and I hope it's the last."

He also has been active in the sheriff's Explorer Program which is designed to interest junior and senior high school boys in law enforcement careers.

And Kirk's experiences still continue.

Bernard Harper Serving With MP's

STUTTGART, WEST GERMANY — Specialist 4 Bernard Harper, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe L. Harper, Box 143, Bourbon, Mississippi, is currently serving with the 65th Military Police Company at Seventh Army Headquarters in Germany.

A 1959 graduate of Ulica High School, Harper entered the Army in 1964. He has been overseas since May 1965.

Seventh Army is the largest field army of the United States has ever sent overseas in peace time. Its primary mission is to keep peace in Europe by maintaining a combat-ready position 24 hours a day, seven days a week.

As a Military Policeman at Seventh Army Headquarters, Harper has a close-up view of how well the job is being done.

"One of the best things about being stationed here in Germany," explains Harper, "is being given the chance to meet and get to know and understand our allies in Europe. I've made lots of friends in Germany. They're OK."

It's easy to understand why the feeling is mutual when you look across the border at the armored and motorized infantry divisions in Soviet-occupied East Germany.

Harper is one of the reasons why the Communists stay on their side of the Iron Curtain.

His wife, Margaret, resides at 537 S. W. 9th Street, Belle Glade.

Seven Distinguished Guests Visit Belle Glade

Belle Glade High School had seven distinguished guests last Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday. These visitors were from Tanzania and were Mr. George Mwampoko, the group leader and the Regional Education Officer; Mr. Celestine Kazaura, a teacher at Mungu Teachers College; Mr. Thomas Mhamadi, District Education Officer; Mr. Joseph Lukanga, a teacher at Dares Salaam Technical College; Mr. Josephat Mole, a teacher at Singo Chini Teachers College; Mr. Meinulf Nyoni, District Education Officer; and Mr. Abaitimya Sajune, Primary School Inspector.

While these men were here, Mr. Pellon Morris was responsible for their welfare and for showing them around. These men stayed at the Holiday Inn and visited the different farming areas. Monday, Mr. Morris told them about our school program and showed them our school work, especially the FFA and DCT programs. Mr. John Causey took them to the farming areas. On Tuesday they went to the sugar mills and the experiment station. On their last day here, Wednesday, they visited places they were interested in and re-visited any place they wanted. They arrived in the United States on September 14 and are staying until November 26. While they are here they are visiting many important places, Washington, D. C.; Greensboro, North Carolina; Detroit, Michigan; Kansas City, Missouri; Lawrence, Kansas; Delroy, Ohio; Akron, Ohio; Cleveland, Ohio; Berea, Kentucky; Miami, Florida; and Belle Glade.

They chose Belle Glade as the only high school in the United States to visit. One reason they came is that this land is much like their own and they wanted to learn about the farming business. So that they could improve theirs.

The visit to the U. S. was to learn ways to improve the farming, industrial, and educational levels of their country.

Love Letter On The Care Of A Pet

It seems that until next week Harvey will be out of town on business. His fiancée Debbie, has agreed to keep his pet alligator until he returns. However, he seems reluctant to let it and explain how to care for it himself. He'd rather just leave her a simple little note and skeddadle.

Dear Debbie:

I am going into town tomorrow and I won't be back until Tuesday, but don't worry about Tickle the alligator. He won't run around biting someone's hands off because I left a two-year supply of kelp grits in the bathtub. I hope that it'll be enough to keep him satisfied for a week.

With the bathtub for a place to swim and a wash basin in which to wash his hands and brush his fangs, he will have all the comforts of home. It is well lighted and has a fan for whenever he gets hot. Also, there is a laundry room in case he runs out of clean underwear.

If you awaken one night with the walls trembling as if they've about to fall, don't worry. Just remember that it's only because when my baby comes too much he starts belching like a bull. When the three men that usually come over to complain get tired, make them help you roll him over. Tickle his stomach until he calms down and then he'll go to sleep.

Love, P. S. Please don't worry if he gets out of the bathroom and knocks the front door off its hinges. Just put a piece of cardboard over the door until I get home. After he gets tired of running around, he always comes home. Don't be afraid, he hasn't killed anyone, yet.

TEACHER OF THE WEEK The Teacher of the Week is Mrs. Rebecca Evans. When coming to Belle Glade, Mrs. Evans was better known as Miss Rebecca Hicks but on June 12, 1965 she took the new name of Mrs. John Earl Evans, teacher of Biology.

Player Of The Week

This week's "Player of the Week" is middle guard Gerald Watson.

Gerald has been a consistently good player throughout the football season. His name is frequently announced at games for having made tackles. Gerald plays mainly defense, however when Tommy Woods was injured, Gerald replaced him and gained over a hundred yards carrying the ball.

Last Friday night, Gerald did an outstanding job on the defensive unit including playing a key part in a crucial goal line defense.

Lynda Elected Governor

"Save Your Hide, Vote For Sides" proved to be the winning slogan for Lynda Sides, the newly elected governor of District 8 of the Cooperative Education Clubs of Florida.

Thirty-one of the members of DCT attended the bi-annual meeting in Stuart on November 3 accompanied by Mr. Hayes, Mr. Morris, and Mr. Rasco, who was a judge.

Lynda was born in Montgomery, Alabama, seventeen years ago. She lived in Guam for two years after the war. Although she was only five years old, she remembers the hour-long blackouts each night. Employed as a general office worker at Glades Sugar House, she hopes to continue in secretarial work after graduation.

TEACHER OF THE WEEK The Teacher of the Week is Mrs. Rebecca Evans. When coming to Belle Glade, Mrs. Evans was better known as Miss Rebecca Hicks but on June 12, 1965 she took the new name of Mrs. John Earl Evans, teacher of Biology.

Mrs. Evans is honored this week because of her contributions in student activities every year. Such activities are the football festival and the Prom. She and Mr. Evans take an active part with the young people by serving as counselors of the Junior High M. Y. F. The Evans are going to West Lake, Louisiana at Christmas to spend the holidays with Mrs. Evans' large family of six brothers and one sister.

BURN! DEVILS! BURN!

A snake dance followed by a bonfire will set the mood for the Pahokee Blue Devils game next week.

Students will gather at the park at 6:30 Tuesday night, and traditionally, will tie up traffic from Main Street to the high school. They will be led by the B. G. H. S. Band, followed by the J. V. Cheerleaders carrying a fearsome Blue Devil.

At the bonfire, a "preacher" (at least for the occasion) will address the crowd with a few choice words of wisdom before the "devil" is tossed to the fire.

On the following night the GOLDEN RAMS and the Blue Devils will battle for the Bill Young Memorial trophy at the Pahokee field at 8 o'clock.

Coach Burke is hoping that the Rams will want to win just a little bit more than the Devils. The team which holds the victory at the end of the game will be presented with the Bill Young Memorial Trophy. This trophy has represented true sportsmanship between the two rivals and has become traditional.

Bobcats Stomp Vikings 47-21

The mighty Bobcats were led to victory by quarterback, Charles Haynes, as they rumbled against the Kennedy High Vikings in Riviera Beach, Friday night with one of the most upturning victories of the season. This victory gave to the Bobcats against the SAC championship for the second straight year, with the winning of our next game this will be the first time in Lake Shore's history to have won eight-straight games in a two year period.

After moving the ball down the field into Viking territory, Charles Daniels with his great running power chopped up 8 yards for the first touchdown of the game. (PAT) Charles Walker.

Getting the ball back again, quarterback Charles Haynes gave a handoff to halfback Joe Shelly, who with his unbelievable running attack scrambled 7 yards for Lake Shore's second TD.

Tackle Thomas McGrady completed a 22 yard pass from quarterback Charles Haynes on a tackle eligible pass to add an additional 6 points to Lake Shore's score. (PAT) Charles Walker.

Late in the first period Charles Haynes ran as though he was on water skis 32 yards with a pass interception for another Lake Shore TD.

To prove why he's the greatest quarterback in South Florida, Haynes came back again on a six yard run. To strike pay dirt. (PAT) Charles Haynes. Again came Hay-

National Education Week Observed At Lake Shore High

National Education Week was observed in all schools on November 6-12. "Education Adds Up" was the theme.

YOUNG SKIN DIVER — Philip Harkin-Ned and his friend Charles are saved from drowning in the Pacific by two skin divers.

HOLD FAST TO YOUR DREAMS — Catherine Blanton-Emmy Low, a fifteen year old Negro girl wanted more than anything to be a ballet dancer. She holds fast to her dreams to become a dancer despite the imposing obstacle of racial prejudice.

DESERT DOG — Jack Lonsing-Animal life and adventure.

I, JUDY — Eve Bennett-Judy Lansing, an average high school senior in a midwestern city finally attains her goal as reporter on the school paper.

Maggie Fuller

The teachers of Lake Shore along with the students showed much enthusiasm and ended the week with an inspirational program which made the point.

At this time, all parents, students and friends were invited to attend Open House on November 9, wherein all new facilities were shown and demonstrated. There were displays of some of the works which the students had completed during the first few months of school.

We hope that the parents and friends who attended this affair enjoyed themselves, and that will feel free to visit us at any time.

HOMECOMING IS OVER BUT KAMPUS KAPERS AREN'T

B. Bell and S. Ingram — what type of muffins were those you cooked in Home Economics? Did they really rise through the oven?

J. Small — why were your eyes wet after the game? Did A. Royal forget you?

It seems as if B. Wisner and J. Webb have really found a good love; ...

But P. Powell doesn't seem to be happy about it, neither does S. Denard.

L. Carrigan — why were you watching the door so much after you arrived at the dance? I know whom you were looking for.

T. McGrady — does B. Johnson really look beautiful to you?

M. Fuller — why was J. E. Pearson seen at the game with you?

G. Johnson — why do you have the tall look on your face, is it because D. Parrish left you?

E. Jackson — its about time you found some one, don't you think?

J. Chastine — why did E. Harris make you put your hand in his pocket Friday night at the game?

D. Studine, why were you so clean at the game? Were you looking for "someone special"?

Will the person who ate the rat food please stand up? We're told it was J. M. Le-mone, B. Phillips, and J. Harrell. Is it true? Please don't eat any more! For the rat's sake.

Until next week, this is the Kampus Kapers writers saying keep the things you do cool, unless you want them hot.
